BOLSHEVIST DEFEAT IS OVERWHELMING

MORE THAN 90,000 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN UP TO THIS TIME

EIGHT ENEMY DIVISIONS HAVE BEEN ANNIHILATED BY THE POLES

ALSO MORE THAN 200 GUNS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

WEBB MILLER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Aug. 24.—The Russian defeat in Poland is so complete and overwhelming that there is no possibility of the bolsheviks reforming their shattered armies on Polish territory, press dispatches declared today. The prediction was made that all the red troops will be ejected from the occupied area before the end of the week.

Bolshevik prisoners to date total more than ninety thousand, according to unofficial reports. Sixty thousand of these were taken in the Warsaw area and many in the Danzig corridor.

Eight Divisions Destroyed

Warsaw, Aug. 24.—Eight bolshevik divisions have been completely annihilated and eight others reduced by half, according to unofficial advices from Warsaw today.

The Polish victory is growing.

Prisoners already counted total more than forty thousand and more than two hundred guns have been captured.

Only the fourth and fourteenth Russian armies are still able to afford real resistance, it was reported.

Northern Bolshevik Army Would Surrender

London, Aug. 24.—3:30 p. m.—Russia's northern army has opened negotiations for surrender, according to a report from Vienna today. The dispatch which was unconfirmed, said the bolsheviks had sent a messenger to arrange terms of capitulation.

Bolshevik Forces Retreating Everywhere

London, Aug. 24.—The bolsheviks are now retreating along the entire five hundred mile battle front in Poland, according to unofficial dispatches from Warsaw this afternoon.

General Budanny, whose cavalry had threatened Lemberg for more than a week, has joined in a general withdrawal, it was said.

(United Press)

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 24.—Alleging he suffered for nearly four months with a cocaine needle in his jaw, John I. Erickson, twenty-five years old, began suit for $5,282 damages against Dr. Raymond Anderson. Erickson had a surgeon extract the broken needle.

BRITISH WILL CLAIM DAMAGES FOR HOLDING SHIP

A. L. BRADFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, August 24.—The British embassy has notified the state department that damage claims will be made against this government because of refusal to surrender promptly to Great Britain eight former German liners, it was learned today.

British experts may compute the alleged loss which has led to action taken by the shipping board a week ago.

The initial claims will be only for actual loss Great Britain suffered when the crews were maintained in New York awaiting for surrender of the ships. If the state department refuses to act on this claim Britain will institute a new one for all losses that can be attributed by holding of the vessels. This would involve cost of the ship's earning power while here in New York for several weeks after the British crew had arrived.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT ASKS RUSSIANS CONCERNING ARMISTICE

(By United Press)

London, Aug. 24.—4:30 p. m.—Arthur Belford, Lord President of the Council, has addressed a note to M. Kemmoff, bolshevik trade commissioner here demanding information as to whether the additional Russian armistice proposals to the Poles are as unofficially reported.

The note which was made public this afternoon said that upon Russia's answer will depend the future policy of the British government toward that country.

SUPREME COURT ASSUMES CHARGE

OF INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS IN TENNESSEE TO PREVENT RATIFICATION

(United Press)

Nashville, Aug. 24.—The supreme court today assumed jurisdiction of the injunction proceedings which have been started against Governor Roberts and other state officials to prevent them from certifying that the Tennessee legislature ratified the suffrage amendment. Chief Justice Landeen issued writs taking the suits from the lower courts on petition of Roberts and other defendants.

The time for hearing in the supreme court has not been set.

TENNESSEE VOTE IS CERTIFIED TO STATE DEPARTMENT

CERTIFICATION REGARDING WOMAN SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT
MAILED TO SECRETARY
OF STATE

(By United Press)

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 24.—Governor A. H. Roberts has certified to the state department at Washington that Tennessee has ratified the federal suffrage amendment, he declared today.

Governor Roberts, according to Attorney General Thompson, mailed the certification legally to the secretary of state.

This followed granting writs of certiorari and superedeas in the state supreme court by Supreme Justice Landeen. These writs, it was held, took in injunction proceedings from the lower court and enabled the governor and other state officials to act.

The certification was sent to Secretary Colby by registered letter shortly before noon, it was said. Similar certifications were sent to President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and the speaker of the lower house of congress.

Mrs. Charl Williams, leader of the Tennessee women who have been working in behalf of the suffrage amendment, sent a telegram to Secretary Colby notifying him that the certification had been put in the mail, she said.

ENGLAND AND ITALY ASK RUSSIANS TO MODIFY PROPOSALS

(United Press)

Lucerne, Switzerland, Aug. 24.—Great Britain and Italy in demanding that the Russians modify the armistice proposals to the Poles, have sent a message to the bolsheviks requiring withdrawal of objectionable clauses before the end of the week.

Disclosure of the dispatch of this message was made by Premier Lloyd George in an interview today.

"The soviet's demand that the Polish workmen be armed is so intolerable that we (Lloyd George and Premier Giolette of Italy) have sent a message asking a reply before the end of the week, assuring us of the withdrawal of this and many similar demands," the British leader said.

"Imagine the soviet's asking England to draw its only army from specified territory. This would be an interference with our affairs and we can not permit a similar attitude toward Poland."

MOVIE STARS CALL ON HARDING

ARE MEMBERS OF THE HARDING-COOLEDGE THEATRICAL LEAGUE

RAYMOND CLAPPER,

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Marion, O., Aug. 24.—The Hardings took the old front porch rocking chairs into the house today and welcomed a host of jazz, shimmy, vamps and other varieties of stage and movie stars who came to call on the republican presidential candidate today. They are members of the Harding-Coolidge theatrical league.

On the same train with Al Johnson, Valeska Surat, Evelyn Nesbit and the rest of the actors' troupe, came Chas. Evan Hughes, republican presidential candidate in 1916, for a conference with Harding.

The theatrical folk were to stage a special Harding show on the front porch, hear the candidate speak, and then motor to the White Oak Sanatorium near Marion for luncheon. Senator and Mrs. Harding were to be guests.

COX DATES FOR WESTERN TOUR ARE ANNOUNCED

(United Press)

New York, Aug. 24.—The following speaking dates for Governor Cox's speaking tour were announced today by the democratic national committee:

Fargo, N. D., September 7; Billings, Mont., Sept. 8; Butte and Helena, Sept. 9; Missoula and Spokane, Sept. 10; Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.

HERBERT WALKER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Dayton, Aug. 24.—Governor J. M. Cox, holding the political spotlight because the senatorial campaign fund committee has regulated the evidence against his charges that the republicans are seeking a "campaign chest" of $17,000,000, will leave tonight on a whirlwind stump speaking tour invading four states.

His tour will be from southeast Indiana to the Atlantic coast with a visit to New York city Saturday as the climax of the week. After two speeches in Columbus next week he will begin his big "swing around the circle."

The governor indicated that much of his information regarding the republican campaign funds will be presented in detail during his speeches this week. He stated that he believed it would be his privilege as a presidential candidate to reveal the evidence asked by the committee as he saw fit.

In New York Saturday Cox is expected to confer with George White, chairman of the democratic national committee and other national leaders of his party. It is probable that plans to have White and other campaign heads formally present to the committee the detailed information which Cox claims to have, will be made at that time.

NATION WIDE INVESTIGATION OF PROFITEERS BEGUN

AGENTS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAVE BEEN SECRETLY GATHERING MUCH
DATA

(United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 24.—A nation wide investigation of profiteers has been ordered by Attorney General Palmer, according to a statement here today by Chas. F. Clynne, U. S. district attorney here. Clynne declared department of justice agents have secretly gathered data on profiteering for several weeks and they have a mass of information. Palmer has sent instructions to all United States attorneys in the country to start an investigation.

COX MAY BE FORCED TO APPEAR AND TELL OF CAMPAIGN FUND

(By United Press)

Chicago, August 24.—Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, may be forced to appear before the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures to tell what he knows of the alleged republicans' $17,000,000 campaign fund, party leaders here indicated today.

Congressman Fess, chairman of the republican congressional committee in a statement today urged that the committee insist that Cox appear before it. "The investigation is timely and I am glad the senate committee has taken steps to clear up the financial charges," said Fess.

"Such loose talk as is indulged in by Cox will not be taken so serious in Ohio where he is known, but it is too serious to go unchallenged."

ANGLO-ITALIAN POSITION ON POLAND SAME AS FRENCH

(United Press)

Paris, Aug. 24.—Premier Millerand today sent an official note to London declaring the Anglo-Italian message to the bolsheviks regarding Poland contains nothing contrary to France's principles.

The Premier also sent a personal message to Premier Lloyd George saying he would be happy to meet him and Premier Giolitti soon.

CONDITIONS IN AMERICA BEST

SAYS SENATOR KELLOGG, JUST RETURNED FROM EUROPE

(United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 24.—"Conditions in America are far better than in any European country," Senator F. B. Kellogg, back from a six weeks' tour of European countries, said today.

"We still have a large balance of trade and it is to all vital interests to industry and labor that this should be maintained."

"Of course Europe can not go on paying us several billion dollars annually for our produce unless we buy from her or extend credit. The remedy seems to be to maintain our industries and foreign commerce and to become investors of foreign securities."

NO ONE STAR DRAMA IN U. S. GOVERNMENT

Marion, August 24.—"The American government ought not to be a one star drama," Senator Warren G. Harding declared today, comparing the popular government to the play, in an address to theatrical stars here today.

INVESTIGATION OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS EXCITES INTEREST

CANDIDATES OF TWO PARTIES WILL NOT BE CALLED TO TESTIFY

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Possibilities in the coming quiz of the campaign funds of republican and democrat parties ordered by the senatorial investigating committee, today held the interest of party leaders here. The hearings will begin next Monday. It was declared on both sides that the probe is welcomed as one means of settling charges against both parties of underwriting funds of unprecedented size. Chairman Kenyon of the senate committee set at rest the report that both Senator Harding and Governor Cox would be subpoenaed by the committee.

"We will call neither of the presidential candidates," he said. "Governor Cox was asked to aid us because he is reported to have stated that he had certain information about the republican campaign funds. If he has we will be glad to hear from him."

Senator Kenyon said he would remain in Chicago until he had word from Washington that all subpoenas sent out had been issued.

The possibility of Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic vice presidential nominee, be asked to prove statements attributed to him regarding the republican campaign fund, was also considered today. Committee members declined to verify this report, but it was said that Roosevelt might be asked to give the committee information if statements credited to him were acknowledged by the candidate, who is now on his speaking tour.

Hays Says Investigation Will Injure Cox

ED L. KEEN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 24.—Utmost confidence was expressed by Chairman Hays, member of the republican national committee, who are meeting here today, not only will Governor Cox's charges of a $15,000,000 G. O. P. fund be disproved, but that furthermore the result of the investigation at Chicago next week will prove disastrous to his candidacy.

On the other hand the democratic leaders are equally confident that Cox "has the goods."

Cox had a long telephone conference yesterday afternoon with George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, in New York, at which time it was understood the Governor gave White the essential data upon which charges have been based. In this connection it was learned the evidence has been gathered under the personal direction of the candidate himself. Until today leaders at the democratic national headquarters have professed ignorance of the exact character of this evidence.

Republican Fund Totals $944,353.82

New York, Aug. 24.—The total of the Republican national funds raised since the nomination of Senator Harding is $944,353.82, according to a statement issued this afternoon by F. W. Upham, national director of the party.

Cox Says He Can Prove It

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Gov. Cox today declared that he would prove his charges that the republicans are seeking a campaign fund of $15,000,000 when he speaks at Pittsburgh next Thursday night.

In a sharp statement Cox referred to Senator Harding's denial of the campaign fund allegations stating that he believed the republican candidate "knows nothing about a lot of things that are going on around him."

The governor then promised that at Pittsburgh he would "advise the candidate as to matters of which the senator claims to be ignorant."

Pine Cliff

By JESSIE E. SHERWIN

(80, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

"All right and title," repeated Wilbur Deane after the lawyer who had informed him that he was a legatee to a small portion of the estate of Peter Groll. "That means that I own a house and lot at what's the name of the outlandish place?"

"Pine Cliff, but 'a house and lot' scarcely describes the benefice. In the first place it is remote. Fish and game abound, mostly nothing else. It is in the wildest part of Wisconsin, the favored haunts of the sportsman. A rough lumber shack is the general residence amid burned-over stumps and primeval forest."

"Well, I need a change and I think I will go up there and look over my inheritance."

"There is your deed," remarked the lawyer, handing Deane an envelope. "You have simply to record it. I think your uncle told me that the last time he visited Pine Cliff, he made arrangements to allow an old trapper and his child to occupy the place for a nominal rental, but that is only a verbal lease from season to season."

"Very good," smiled Deane, indulging in visions of bachelor housekeeping, of free deer meat, wild honey and choice game, and nightfall saw him on the train bound north on his experimental journey. It was not a pleasant one, except for a few hundred miles. Then came belated connections, a flimsy fifty miles in an enigmatic caboose, twenty more in a broken down wagon over a cobblestone roadway and at dusk he reached what there was of Crosscut. There was a block structure labeled "Hotel," half a score of lumber camp cabins and a general store and postoffice combined. It was after a night of sweltering upon a homemade cot without a mattress or covering, that Deane awoke the next morning to hire a guide who would pilot him to Pine Cliff, better known as "Old Dayton's place."

"Why that?" inquired Deane, seeking enlightenment.

"Oh, Jacob Dayton and his daughter have lived there for five years and the original owner seems to have forgotten all about it," was the explanation. "Yes, I heard the tenant had a child," remarked Deane.

"A child? She's grown up into a good deal of a smart, chipper young lady since she came here. Why didn't you notify them you were coming? They meet most of the vacationers here and drive them in their rig whenever they wish to camp along Escumbe river."

Deane viewed the only piece of real estate he had ever owned in a listless way. The house was intensely ugly looking, the few acres about it covered with stumps and rocks. One token of color and beauty attracted where a brief reach of hollyhocks and wild rose showed. Deane paid the guide his charge and crossed the creek on boulders. As he approached the house a tall, pretty girl, seemingly 18, came to the doorway. It was a pleasure to gaze upon the only womanly creature Deane had seen passing over some two hundred miles. She wore a neatly fitting calico dress and daintily decorated moccasins, and her delicate hands and perfectly arranged wealth of curling brown hair might have aroused the envy of some exclusive devotee of fashion. There was a winning grace in her smile and the bend of her head. Deane exerted himself to appear as a thoughtful gentleman extending full consideration to a young lady entitled to the completest courteous attention. In a few well-chosen words he revealed his identity and the object of his visit.

"Father will be here soon," said Emma Dayton. "We have wondered that no one has been here to see about the place through the years and we were thinking of removing to the city. You see, father and I have made the best of our lot, and he is getting old. This is my work," and inviting Deane inside, she indicated a table where a mass of feathers and some fish hooks and wire showed.

"This is my work and has been for some time," she explained. "There is a chicken farm across country twenty miles and its owner furnishes me with my feather supply. I made a few baits for a fishing party some time ago and seemed to have invented a trout bait as to fineness and color with which they were very successful. Since then these rich anglers who visit here seem to think they cannot do without my special invention, and some of them spread the news among the club members in several large cities and I have had a lot of orders as a result. Then, too, a sporting goods house in Chicago has written me, asking if I am in a position to supply them."

It was a pleasure for Deane to cooperate with this wildwood flower, so sweet and innocent and yet so fully imbued with the commercial instinct. He remained as a boarder at the place for a month and then returned to the city as Emma Dayton's envoy. Just as winter came on father and daughter were comfortably settled in a large flat, a portion of which was used as a work room where Emma employed a score of girls assisting her in making the trout flies. She had the feathers shipped from the Wisconsin chicken farm, availing that they were especially adapted to her purpose.

With the following spring when the city trade was supplied for the season, Deane, his bride and her father went up to the renovated old shack at Pine Cliff to enjoy the beauty and solitude of a restful environment that would always be dear to them.

Dismissed Fireman Whose Daring Rescue of Eight May Win Reinstatement

Louis Tischler

"The department needs firemen like you," said "Smoky Joe" Martin, Acting Chief of the New York Fire Department, when congratulating Louis Tischler on his daring rescue of seven women and a child while he hung to a ledge five stories in the air with his feet barely resting on the top rung of an extension fire ladder. Tischler was dismissed from the department eight months ago, after having been a fireman for nine years when he failed to appear for trial on charges of having struck a battalion chief who admonished him at a fire. Petitions are now in circulation urging Tischler's reinstatement and Acting Chief "Smoky Joe" has personally assured him his case will receive prompt attention.

Powders Her Nose First Thing After Breaking the
"Loop the Loop" Record

Miss Laura Bromwell

After "looping the loop" eighty-seven times above a Long Island flying field and setting a new record for women pilots, Miss Laura Bromwell's first act after stepping from her machine was to bring out her powder puff and take the shine off her nose. She said the official figure was low, as she had counted more than one hundred "loops" herself, but accepted the eighty-seven when informed she had been hidden by clouds much of the time and officials could count only when her plane was visible. The best previous record for women was twenty-five, made by a French aviatrice. Miss Bromwell received her pilot's license only a year ago.

GAVE NEW IDEA TO WORLD

Architect Admits He Owes to Lucky Dream Structural Scheme Which Makes Him Famous.

When the new three-story Bahai temple, which is to cost several million dollars, is erected in Chicago, a dream that Louis Bourgeois of New York city struggled with for 12 years to put into plans and designs will have materialized.

More than 25 years ago Bourgeois sat on the sea shore one night tracing out lines he found in the study of the movement of the stars. A wave rushed in over his markings on the sands, and they were lost. Just 12 years ago he heard of the competition for the Bahai temple. He mortgaged his home, and bought a small confectionery store which his wife, an artist, ran while he worked. Baha 'O 'Tah, founder of Bahalism, had adopted nine as the symbolic number of his religious movement, and said his temples should have nine sides, with as many equal gates for the nine great world religions he wished to unite in one temple.

Bourgeois sketched the idea; but he had to put it in plaster, as he did not know how to carve. So one Sunday a friend taught him. And then he carved the three stories one by one, designing the second only after the first was completed, and the third only when details of the second were final. His model took first prize. And it is probable that Abul Bahai, present pontiff of Bahalism, will come to Chicago to live.

PHYSICIAN SURPRISED

"Hearing of some good results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Johnson's Pharmacy and all good druggists.

LIKE COOL FROCKS

Pastel Shades for Warm Weather—Pale Green Coolest.

Colors Play Most Important Part in Milady's Comfort on Hot Mid-summer Days.

Though it is rather maddening to be told how cool we look on a hot summer day, when we are feeling quite the opposite, after the first indignation has worn off the remark is apt to have a psychological effect that actually makes us feel cooler, points out a fashion correspondent.

And, after all, it is a very big compliment to be told that we look cool when the weather makes such an appearance almost impossible, for what is less attractive than any one who is obviously hot?

Cool colors and cool fabrics go a long way toward making a cool summer. This is evidenced by the usual custom of dressing our rooms in their summer clothes if we are to inhabit them during the warm weather. Heavy velvet and brocade hangings give way to cretonnes or silks in cool shades and elaborate formal curtains are replaced by simple sheer affairs. Thick rugs are taken up, too, and all this is done because it makes the rooms look cooler, not because those winter trappings actually add to the heat of the house.

An outdoor frock with a skirt of kumli-kumli and overblouse of printed dew-kist. With it is worn a wide-brimmed sailor, crown encircled with double ruching of satin de luxe.

This principle holds good in dressing ourselves, too, and pastel shades in delicate fabrics rule our lives in summer if we are fortunate enough to be out of town where such things are appropriate. But even among pastel shades there are some that are cooler than others, and we are not apt to take this into consideration in choosing our Swiss and organdie frocks. Pale green, the shade that has appropriately been called "seafoam," has perhaps the most cooling effect upon the eye. White, of course, is notably chilly, and pale blue has the same tendencies. Shades of rose and yellow have warmth and light, and though they are favorite summer colors on a really sizzling day their wearers will not look as comfortable as they might.

ATTIRE FOR GIRL WHO HIKES

Knickers, With Long Coat, Low-Heeled Shoes, Tam, Long Cane, Among Requisites.

Bathing is far from being the only or even the most popular summer sport. Walking—especially for the devotee of the mountains—has a great many passionate followers. There are girls who are really not the least little bit afraid of a ten-mile stroll in the forenoon.

Of course, to thoroughly enjoy walking one must be dressed accordingly. No long or tight skirt, no high heels, these would spoil this healthy pleasure. Nowadays knickers are being worn quite frequently for mountain climbing. They are prettier than ever and the girl with the athletic figure—and most walkers possess it—looks charming in this boyish outfit.

A lovely costume of this sort consists of dark brown laced shoes quite heelless, heavy woolen sport stockings and light tan and dark brown checked knickers. With this is worn a dark brown coat which reaches almost to the bottom of the knickers. A pongee blouse in the natural shade tied with a Windsor bow of checked taffeta adds a note of brightness to the otherwise rather somber outfit. A tam o' shanter of bright tan suede cloth, a long cane, a heavy pair of gauntlet gloves—and there you are.

Worn Over Underslips.

Frocks of white organdie daintily embroidered with white are worn over underslips of vivid taffeta—the organdie, which is a new and exceedingly transparent sort, looking like a mere white mist over the bright colored underdress.

Home Town Helps

HELP BUSINESS TO PROSPER

Matter of Vital Interest to Whole Community That Its Industries Shall Flourish and Grow.

There is an old saying among merchants that there are just two ways to increase their volume of business, remarks Carl Hunt in The Nation's Business. One is through the sale of merchandise to more people; the other, through the sale of more merchandise to present customers.

What is the community doing to help present industries? Is some manufacturer handicapped through the lack of street car transportation for his men, or through the need of a railroad switch that a stubborn city council has declined to authorize, or through some restriction which might easily and properly be removed?

Or could additional capital be invested in the present enterprises of the city, to the benefit of the community, and the profit of local investors?

I am well acquainted with a small Indiana city which in time past has undertaken to be the home of a rolling mill and a large tin-plate mill, though there was no apparent reason why either should have been situated there. Both of them failed.

In the meantime, the whole community stood upon a foundation of stone which was of excellent quality for paving purposes, and from which lime could be, and later was, produced. The one man who entered the stone business there eventually had a thriving trade which later, passing into the hands of outside people, grew still larger. With fuel—a good grade of coal—but a few miles away, and with such stone deposits, this community might have developed along this line had local capital become interested, or had the community made a serious and well-directed effort to interest stone men from other places, for the city has excellent railroad service—three main lines—and is within easy shipping distance of several important cities which afford a large market for crushed stone.

Interlocking Brick.

Burned walls falling all around him during the great fire in San Francisco gave an Arizona man the idea of self-binding and interlocking brick, a type of building material which promises to revolutionize brick construction work the world over. The principle of the brick is decidedly simple. On one side of the brick are two annular bosses which are concentrically located opposite two annular depressions on the other side of the brick, so that when the bricks are laid the bosses register with the depressions. In that way the bricks are locked into the wall and none can be removed unless all the bricks above it are first taken away.

In sections of the country where hollow-wall construction has come into popularity the interlocking brick seems likely to prove the most popular, because it can be used in tying the two walls together. The bricks can be extended across the open space and made to lock together and act as a binder. Hollow-walls are desirable because of their coolness in sections where humidity prevails.

Use Care in Selecting Plants.

In selecting plants one is governed largely by the soil and climatic conditions, position of buildings, walks, drives, fountains, bodies of water, and the surrounding area. Soil conditions may be changed by the addition of manure or commercial fertilizers. Often the amateur is not familiar with the various kinds of plants, and is unable to make the proper selections. For such individuals it is advisable for them to visit the parks and other well planted landscapes. This will enable one to become familiar with the plants and their names, and will aid greatly in the selections of shrubbery to suit his particular needs. Metal tags giving the technical and common names are attached to many of the plants in the parks which will be found helpful to the amateur.

Rheumatism Relief--25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body? Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory result or cost you nothing.

Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Just try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

BEST FORM OF WIND MOTOR

Machine That Will Work in Perfect Calm Is Recent Invention of a Swedish Manufacturer.

For decades attempts at constructing a wind motor that works so steadily as to be used profitably for generating electricity failed because wind motor and generator were directly connected by a rod, and the quantity of electric current was in direct proportion to the power developed by the motor.

A Stockholm (Sweden) manufacturer succeeded recently in constructing a satisfactory wind motor. While the wind is strong only part of the motor's power is utilized to drive the generator, while the surplus power lifts a heavy weight attached to an endless chain. When the wind is not strong enough to furnish sufficient motor power, or ceases wholly, the generator is kept in motion by the force of the slowly falling weight.

The famous Swedish engineer, Jansson, figures that the generator is kept working at full capacity even if absolute calm prevails for three days.

Austria's Salt Monopoly.

The Austrian monopoly on salt ruined all the salt industries for a period of 140 years. There are no data up to the time of the partitioning of Poland, but it can safely be said that the salt mines of Galicia supplied about 100,000 tons of salt yearly, Wiedonitz about 24,000 tons and Bochnia 17,000 tons. There were no other salt mines in Poland in the year 1772.—Baltimore American.

MOTOR MORTALITY

The National Safety Council reports that motor cars are killing more people in this country than all the railroads, factories and mines together. This is a startling situation, when one considers the evil eminence gained by American railroad in this regard. Automobiles are worse than the railroads ever were, yet many people take it as a matter of course.

The worst thing about it is the rapid increase in fatalities, which seems to outrun the increased use of automobiles. In some cities, Chicago, for example, the killings have grown 25 per cent in one year.

Most of the planning that has to do with motor cars is concerned with better traffic conditions and parking arrangements in business sections. Human life is of more importance than any mere matter of convenience, or material improvement. And human safety, fortunately, is a thing which costs comparatively little in money. It is a question of strict law enforcement, of more adequate laws, and of developing a public motor conscience that will remedy most of the evils voluntarily.

Lack of skill in driving is one great cause of automobile accidents. That includes ignorance of how to handle the car and ignorance of the traffic rules. The obvious remedy for it is to require every man or woman, before driving a car, to pass a severe examination and obtain a license. This requirement is already established in some states, but ought to be adopted everywhere.

Hoodlumism on the part of drivers is the other big factor. The "hoodlum" may be a bandit with a stolen car, or a taxi driver, or a millionaire motorist—he is a hoodlum of the road just the same if he drives in reckless and ungentlemanly disregard of the rights of pedestrians and other motorists. For all such there should be severe punishment, with deprivation of their driving licenses for periods suited to the offense.

GAS RATE IN NEW ULM

New Ulm is a town much smaller than Brainerd and the number of its gas users is also much smaller in proportion to Brainerd. New Ulm's original gas franchise adopted in 1914 and amended on June 10 of this year has been received by Mayor F. E. Little.

After Brainerd offered A. G. Whitney a $2 minimum and a $3 rate, the gas charges in New Ulm come as a shock and surprise.

In 1914 New Ulm paid $1.50 per thousand with a discount of 10c a thousand to all using less than 10,000 cubic feet per month if paid on or before the 15th of the month following. The discount was then graduated, being 15c per thousand for those using 10,000 and less than 20,000 cubic feet; 20c per thousand for those using over 20,000 and less than 30,000 cubic feet; 25c per thousand for all using over 30,000 cubic feet per month. The minimum charge was 50c.

A $10,000 bond was required from the company as a guarantee, indemnifying the city against damages which might arise from digging of trenches and ditches, excavations, laying of mains and pipes, etc.

The location, depth and manner of laying all pipes and mains shall at all times be subject to the reasonable regulations and directions of the city council.

On July 1 of this year a new gas rate went into effect, setting the rate at $2 per thousand and the minimum remaining at 50c a month. Consumers using less than 10,000 cubic feet of gas per month were allowed a discount of 20c per thousand if bills were paid on or before the 15th of the month following that in which the gas was consumed and bill rendered; consumers using over 10,000 and less than 20,000 cubic feet per month were given a discount of 25c per thousand; over 20,000 cubic feet and less than 30,000 a discount of 30c per thousand;

over 30,000 and less than 40,000 a discount of 35c per thousand; and graduated so on until the consumer of over 90,000 and less than 100,000 cubic feet per month got a discount of 65c per thousand.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Theatre Tonight

Dorothy Dalton, the Thomas H. Ince star of many wonderful plays, is to be presented in her latest picture from the Ince studios, "Black is White" at the Best theatre tonight.

This picture in which Miss Dalton plays the role first as a young girl who is cruelly wronged by her husband and driven from her home on the charge of unfaithfulness, and then that of a mature woman old enough to have a grown son, is said to be one of the most unique in dramatic plot of any production to come to the screen this season. Miss Dalton in revenge as the wife discarded, remarries her husband. Then follows some great drama involving the son in the unfolding of a most original plot. The cast which has been secured to support the star is of the usual Ince calibre and includes such well known players as Holmes Herbert and Jack Crosby. While the production is for the most part tense drama, there are high lights of comedy furnished by the characters of "Jim Brood's" old-time pals who are living on the Brood home.

Since Miss Dalton, for the time being at least, has forsaken the screen for the stage, this is the last opportunity to see this popular star in a good picture. This fact should itself attract large audiences who will regret her retirement from the silver sheet.

Following the announcement that France had recognized General Baron Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik leader in south Russia, and would aid his government materially, came the statement from the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs that France had deferred action until after an exchange of views with Great Britain. The original announcement that Premier Millerand approved the French action in recognizing General Wrangel and in sending a commissioner to south Russia fanned into flame the resentment in England which already had been freely expressed.

GAS SITUATION GIVEN TO DATE

City Clerk Has Not Received Any Word from President A. G. Whitney of the Company

CLERK SENT HIM RESOLUTION

Council Meeting Which Issued the Ultimatum Saturday Attended by Nine Members

The city clerk promptly sent A. G. Whitney of St. Cloud, president of the Brainerd Gas & Electric Co., a copy of the resolution adopted notifying him to furnish gas within 30 days or lose his franchise.

To date not a word has been received from him.

As the gas consumers' committee turned over its reports and correspondence to the council, the matter of further negotiations, if any, rests with the council and they took decisive action on Saturday evening.

At the opening of the council meeting eight members were present. Alderman W. J. Lyons joined the session later and cast his vote with the others in the momentous resolution. That left but one alderman, F. M. Koop, absent.

People are paying their gas bills at the gas office, but those in charge have no knowledge of the next move of the company.

The water and light board was instructed by the council to find a market place for the second hand gas ranges, water heaters, mangles, washers and other equipment of the 765 patrons of the company.

GOOD ROADS PICNIC

Gala Day at Rocky Point Resort Sunday Afternoon, Speech Making, Music, Dinner

(Contributed)

If numbers spell success then the road builders picnic held at Rocky Point resort Sunday was a wonder. From early in the morning until pretty well into the afternoon the people came, mostly in autos, some in carriages with the sprinkling of horsebackers.

Managers Anderson and Carlson had arranged for a large crowd so that there was no dearth of provision both in a gastronomic and recreational way. As one entered the grounds of the resort he was reminded of a county fair, such a line up of autos was there. The management had arranged a parking place at the pavilion. Here also a place, where those who had provided their own lunch could spread the feast. That the good cool living atmosphere had left its impress on the crowd was evidenced by the party groups that early in the day's proceedings were preparing for the noonday meal.

And such jolly groups as they were! And such delectable "Eats" as there were! The writer has not for a long time seen so much fried chicken and cake, nor were potato salad, hard boiled eggs, and all the other necessities, missing. A large number ate dinner at the Resort's hotel.

When the hour for the speech making had arrived the crowd, led by the fire and drum corps from Minneapolis proceeded to the lawn in front of the hotel where the Leech Lake band rendered on of two numbers. County Commissioner Warner of Walker was chairman of the occasion and introduced Atty. Scribner of Walker who spoke briefly and to the point. He said in part "People think that the prime object of the Babcock Amendment is to build seven thousand miles of trunk highway, but the main object is to take the burden of maintenance off the people who are already taxed beyond reason. It is to shift the burden, off the residents of Cass and Crow Wing, and all the other counties, so that instead of building seven thousand, it would eventually mean the building of twenty-four thousand miles of road, trunk highways, county and township. A road that is good for a Packard is good for a Ford."

It became necessary two years ago, when they were scouting around with a view to putting the measure across, to find a man with the necessary pep and ability. The committee hit upon the senator from Cass county to solve the necessity. Mr. Scribner then gave way to Senator P. H. McGarry who spoke with his usual convincingness of the necessity for voting for the amendment.

He dwelt at some length on the old days, and road conditions and showed that the carrying out of the amendment would mean more and better roads with a consequently greater prosperity to the entire state. The senator presented statistics showing that the number of autos in Minnesota has increased from 95,000 in 1912-1914 to 260,000 in 1919. There being an excess of 55,380 over 1915. Altogether, the senator made an ex-

WONDERFUL ARRAY OF ENTERTAINMENT

Coming to the New Park Theatre Which Re-opens on Wednesday, September 1st

THE LIST OF ATTRACTIONS GIVEN

Many Innovations in the Movie World, Western Vaudeville, High Class Legitimate

The re-opening of the New Park Theatre, which has been so much desired by the public, will take place Wednesday, September 1.

The opening show will consist of four acts of Western vaudeville and Sennett's latest feature "Nearly Married", the picture which has made comedy features the latest innovation in the movie world.

This will be followed on Friday by John Breckenridge Ellis' big novel of the early days of Oklahoma entitled "Lahoma". Following this they come thick and fast, every one not merely good but excellent entertainment of the highest type such as Chas. Ray in "Paris Green"; Nazimova, in Rupert Hughes novel "The Cup of Fury"; pictures by Rex Beach, Jack London, Basil King, etc; stories like "The Girl from the Outside", "The Street Called Straight", "Burning Daylight", "Shores Across", "Scratch My Back", "Partners of the Night", "The Branding Iron", "The North Wind's Malice", etc.

Road attractions will also be played when good ones can be secured. Those for September are "The Gumps" the popular Andy and Min cartoon show with an excellent cast and chorus, "Sleeping Partners" with Edna Goodrich is one of the season's big ones, as is also Schubert's "Linger Longer Letty".

After talking to Manager Workman it seems there is no limit to the startling array of attractions in store for Brainerd. Some of the features of the New Park are reviewed.

Brainerd is the only city of its size in Minnesota which maintains a first class theatre orchestra. This is surely the case at the New Park where the leader W. F. Palmer with the orchestra last season gave the New Park theatre goes music of the best and again this season the New Park orchestra will be conducted by Mr. Palmer, assisted by first class artists.

The vaudeville nights Wednesday and Thursday will give Brainerd a new line of entertainment which Mr. Workman is assured will be as good as the shows playing in Fargo and Winnipeg.

Pictures will be par-excellent judged by the bookings and personally the writer doesn't see how he will be able to stay away, and is making his arrangements to spend every other night away from home.

BASEBALL BUNTS

Crosby defeated the Clydes at Duluth 4 to 6, bunching its runs in the last inning off errors and hits. This makes 5 out of 6 that Crosby has won from the Clydes.

Directors of the Brainerd baseball club will have their regular meeting on Wednesday evening at the room on the second floor of the depot, across the hall from the dispatchers office.

Series Closes Tonight

At the Apostolic Lutheran church of Quince St., S. E. The last of a series of meetings will be held tonight. Rev. John P. Nelson will speak.

ceptional address in which there was food for thought presented in such a way that his hearers could not possibly misunderstand. He said, "Take advantage of California, Oregon, and Washington's precedent and do it now."

J. H. Mullen of St. Paul, road engineer, was next introduced. He announced that 3,000 miles of the 7,000 comprehended in the amendment is already graded, and 2,000 miles surfaced. There is also 76 miles of pavement. The average daily traffic on the state roads was in 1916, 490 vehicles, of which 414 were autos, and 2 trucks. In 1919 the daily average was 1936 vehicles, of which 1919 were autos, 15 trucks. A significant point is that in 3 years the percentage of motor traffic grew from 80% in 1916 to 98% in 1919.

It must have been gratifying to the Cass county people to see such a large number of Brainerdites present. The Leech Lake band made a good showing and rendered the program below under the leadership of P. J. Bibb.

MORE CATTLE FROM WISCONSIN

County Agent Roth and Club Leader Taylor to Buy Cows and Calves for County Farmers

FIRST SHIPMENT HAS THRIVED

Farmers and Boys and Girls Clubs Highly Pleased With Success of Their Venture

E. G. Roth, county agent, and J. W. Taylor, boys and girls club leader, will leave Thursday for Wisconsin to buy another shipment of pure bred and high grade dairy stock and calves.

The last lot was bought in West Salem, said to be one of the best dairy centers in Wisconsin. The calves gave complete satisfaction. Farmers and boys and girls clubs have been so pleased that further orders have been given and Crow Wing county will add another carload of dairy stock.

Andrew N. Nelson of South Long lake, has ordered $1,000 worth of purebred Holstein cows. Those wishing calves and not listed, should see County Agent E. G. Roth at once.

The cows and calves are disposed of in Crow Wing county at actual cost and thus furnish the best grade of high grade and pure bred cattle at the lowest possible cost. Those received on the first shipment made in May are quickly becoming acclimated and are thriving and giving entire satisfaction to their owners, many of whom are placing second orders.

MRS. MARY HONETT

Former Resident of Brainerd 25 Years Ago Died in Superior, Funeral in Brainerd

Mrs. Mary Honett, wife of A. Honett of Superior, Wis., passed away at her home, and the remains will be sent to Brainerd for burial. They will be received Wednesday noon at Whitney's chapel and the services will be held there at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. J. Lowrie officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. The remains may be viewed from Wednesday noon to the hour of the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Honett lived in Brainerd 25 years ago, at which time Mr. Honett was in partnership with the late M. Hagberg and conducted a grocery store.

Mrs. Honett leaves two sisters, Mrs. M. Hagberg and Mrs. A. Linden of Brainerd, daughter Miss Hilda Honett, a brother Charles Sundine. The sympathy of their many friends and relatives is extended to the bereaved family.

TELEPHONE WIRE ON THE LAKE

Willmar Committee Made a Fatal Mistake When They Said Their Lake Was Good Landing Place

THE AVIATOR HIT THE WIRE

Left Wing Touched the Water, Plane Spun Around, Lower Wing Crumpled Up Like Paper

In a letter to J. E. O'Brien of the Northern Home Furnishing Co., Aviator Lieut. Kenneth Salisbury describes the accident he experienced with his hydroplane at Willmar. He writes:

"I was just ready to alight on the water. A telephone wire was stretched across the lake and I didn't see it at all until just before I lit. We were going over 60 miles an hour and stopped awfully quick. The wire caused my left wing to touch the water, the plane spun around and it was all over. The lower wing crumpled up like paper and one strut was broken. The upper wing was strained considerably, but I believe it will be all right."

Extra parts had to be ordered from the Curtis Co., which had to send to Garden City, N. J., for replacements. Lieut. Salisbury said he would notify Mr. O'Brien just as soon as repairs were completed, and when he expected to be in Brainerd.

"Boxing Expert Trains as Window Demonstrator"

Demonstrating a new form of one-piece suit, the "Cowden Service Suit," "Jack" Olin, prominent eastern bantamweight boxer is in town. He is conducting his demonstrations in the show window of Bye & Peterson on Wednesday, August 25th.

Olin conducts his demonstrations with the ease of the boxer, during workout hours. He changes the different varieties of Cowden in a speedy manner, swinging his arms and going through athletic contortions which tend to show the strength of the garment.

A few months ago Olin boxed for the bantamweight title of the world, the bout taking place in Des Moines. He says that outside of regular training, nothing ever came so near to keeping him in fighting trim as demonstrating the "Cowden."

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION

At Our Store

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 25th

You are invited to see the showing and demonstration at our store of the "Cowden"—a much better one-piece work garment.

A FACTORY REPRESENTATIVE

will be here to show you the many features of the Cowden, which has more proven good points than any other work suit. See for yourself how the Cowden is made of double-strength fabrics, has seams triple-stitched with 4-cord thread, large military pockets, rust-proof all-brass buttons, never tear button holes, under-arm ventilators, adjustable collar and cuffs, re-inforced belt, no raw pocket seams and all seams tailored. Folks who have tried the Cowden say "It's great!"

3 Popular Fabrics

A handsome Olive Twill, heavy Indigo Blue Denim and Cowden's exclusive Blue Stifel Stripe. Made for men in all three fabrics. Made for youths, ages 12 to 16; boys, 7 to 11; and children from 2 to 6 in Olive Twill and Blue Stifel Stripe.

Don't Miss This Demonstration!

TRANSPORT NEEDS COMING TO FORE

CONGRESS IS LIKELY TO TAKE ACTION ON SEVERAL BIG WA-TERWAY PROJECTS.

CANADA'S CONSENT NEEDED

Great-Lakes-to-Ocean Plan Requires Co-operation by Our Northern Neighbor—Fourteen States Unite in the Tidewater Association.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—An increasing demand that congress shall give serious consideration to the matter of improved transportation facilities is noted. A large number of candidates for seats in the house of representatives are this year promising that, if elected, they will do what they can to bring about better facilities for handling the products of the country. Activity along the following lines may be expected
when the new congress meets:

1. An effort to commit this government to a Great Lakes and ocean highway project.
2. Legislation paving the way for a ship canal across northern Indiana and northern Ohio, connecting Lake Michigan with Lake Erie.
3. Provision for an inland water route along the entire length of the Atlantic coast.
4. Further steps toward utilizing the navigable rivers of the country, particularly the Mississippi and the Ohio.
5. Legislation relating to the increased use of the inter-state highways of the country by motortrucks.

Various local organizations are now giving these several branches of the transportation subject consideration.
Fourteen states, for instance, have joined in forming what they call the Great Lakes Tidewater association.
This group of states lies between Pennsylvania on the east and Idaho on the west. The purpose of this organization is to work for a system of deep inland waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

Consent of Canada Needed.
This project, if carried out, would be a joint activity since the United States could not go ahead with it without the consent of Canada. Up to this time Canada has not shown keen interest in the project for the reason, it is asserted, that the Canadian government is disposed to prefer the Hudson bay route to the ocean, and that government realizes that if the Great Lakes route should be developed, it would militate against the Hudson bay route.

Recently enthusiastic meetings have been held in some of the 14 states that have become members of the Great Lakes Tidewater association.
These meetings have brought out the fact that the creation by the Canadian and American governments of a great system of inland waterways from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic seaboard would make seaports of Chicago, Duluth, Cleveland and other large cities on the Great Lakes; that it would bring the cities of the middle West 1,500 miles nearer the Atlantic seaboard. The Great Lakes Tidewater association is planning to lay the whole project before congress at the earliest possible date, and at the same time it proposes to do what it can to interest the Canadian government in the project.

The Lake Michigan-Lake Erie ship canal project is not new. Such a waterway has been advocated for the last ten or fifteen years by industrial interests in northern Illinois, northern Indiana, northern Ohio and southern Michigan. Several years ago congress ordered the engineering department of the war department to make a preliminary survey and submit a preliminary report on the feasibility of such a canal.
The department advised the legislative body that such a waterway could be constructed, but it did not go so far as to advise the government to undertake the project.

Atlantic Coast Project.
The Atlantic coast inland waterway project is also an old one. Congress has from time to time invested money in it, and as a matter of fact there is now an inland channel along most of the length of the coast. There is to be renewed agitation in favor of completing this work.

Persons who have given the transportation system much thought are of the opinion that the time is ripe for the extensive developments of the natural waterways of the country, waterways that can be used for transportation purposes. When Theodore Roosevelt was president he was an advocate, in season and out of season, of the development of the navigable streams, but public sentiment did not sustain him. It is evident to students of the situation of today that if his advice had been acted on the country would not have any such transportation problem to deal with as it has today. There is unquestionably a revival of what may be called the Roosevelt sentiment in favor of making larger use of the streams for transportation purposes, and it is reasonable to assume that the subject will loom large in the next congress.

The Moistener.
"The speech is too dry, senator,"
said his secretary.
"All right. I'll moisten it a little by slipping in a sly reference to light wines and beer."

Her Weight in Gold

By MURIEL LEE

"I'm through!" announced Bruce Atwood with fixed determination.
"I'll stick," asserted his mining partner, Dan Forster.

"Don't blame me, Dan," went on the first almost pathetically, for he and Forster had been close friends. "I have cheerfully invested half of my resources in this Golden Bar proposition to find that I am not adapted for the business. There's gold in the bed of the old Minnoka, for we have found it, but it's all guess work as to locating the particular spots where it is massed in sufficient quantities to be paid for taking it out."

"Well, if you haven't the patience to wait until the dams and bins are put in, quit it and no hard feelings.
One thing, though, do you intend to draw out your share of the capital
now in the bank to cover work contracted for?"

"Not a penny of it," replied Atwood promptly. "Go the limit on that, Dan.
You see, I have only a few thousands left and I'm going to make a new try in real legitimate business. I've got a fair opportunity to do it down in Appleton."

"What line, Bruce?"
"Boots and shoes, an established store. Owner sick and has to sell out.
I've got some new ideas as to running such a business. I'll not be content to simply dreg along and make a living. If I can't see a big future in the proposition, I'll sell out and get to the big cities."

Within the week Atwood was sole proprietor of the shoe store in Appleton. He had the place renovated and bought a dazzling electric sign. He spent no money to make the show windows attractive. The opening day was signalized by a band concert. Atwood circled the district for miles around and on Saturday there was a constant rush of farmers and their families and sales were beyond his fondest anticipations.

The new advertising wrinkle of the week was the settling in place of a handsome weighing scale, capacious and ornate, with a broad alluring dial and everybody was invited to weigh themselves free of charge. Very few passersby ignored the opportunity.

One afternoon Atwood was standing near the door when a young lady and an old gentleman, evidently her father, halted as the former spoke in mis-sional accents. "Oh, papa, I want to weigh myself. I haven't done so since I came home from my visit East."

Atwood came forward and waved his hand toward the scale, receiving a smiling recognition of thanks from the bewitching young lady as she stepped upon the scale platform.

"One hundred and twenty-two pounds," announced Vivian Dalton.
"Why, papa, home cooking has increased my weight over six pounds in a week."

"That adds so much more to your value," was the affectionate reply.
"worth your weight in gold. The fortunate young man who wins you will have to qualify up to that standard."

"Oh, what a lovely pair of slippers!"
exclaimed Vivian, and in her haste to get nearer to the show window her foot caught in the extending top plate of the platform and tore away the heel of her shoe entirely and a part of the sole. She would have fallen only that Atwood caught her. For a fleeting moment he held in his arms this dainty, sweet creature, whose value he estimated even beyond that expressed by her proud and loving parent. She had to come inside and remained seated while the cobbler repaired her dis-ordered footgear and both she and her father expressed their thanks for the prompt and helpful attention.

"I can't forget her," sighed Atwood the next morning. "My manager says her father is the money king in the town. Pretty plainly he indicated that her husband-to-be must have 'her weight in gold.' H'm! One hundred and twenty-two pounds. Why that would be a little fortune. I'll forget her. Probably I'll never see her again.
I couldn't match her with silver even in the present state of my finances."

But the next day Miss Dalton came into the store to buy the pretty slippers she had fancied. During the following week she again visited the store to introduce a lady interested in charity for the poor. Would Mr. Atwood contribute a pair of shoes to children of poor families.

"Oh, surely." And more than that,
"Just bring in the sizes needed as new worthy applicants in need appear."
And the radiant smile from Vivian that rewarded his good heartedness fully compensated for his impulsive generosity.

Another month went by and those two met at several local functions.
Then Atwood was invited to the Dalton home and was made to feel as a welcome guest.

One day he received a letter from Dan Forster. Golden Bar had paid out rich! Enclosed in the missive was a receipt from the United States mint for Atwood's half of the proceeds of the last clean-up.

"Fortune has smiled on me," he told Mr. Dalton and Vivian, meeting them on the street that afternoon and he showed them the mint receipt. "Gold!
We're wading in it down at the Bar.
And I've been reckoning—in the pure metal I've got enough and to spare to weight down the scales for over 122 pounds. I was thinking of Miss Dalton's value, you see," he smiled, and Mr. Dalton looked pleasantly interested and pretty Vivian flushed consciously.

Roumanian Crown Prince Who is Touring America

Crown Prince Carol

After being welcomed an entertained in turn at Cairo, Bombay, Delhi, Bangkok and Tokio, Crown Prince Carol of Roumania has been making a tour of the United States before sailing for Europe on August 28.
Prince Carol is still Crown Prince although he offered to renounce his status and prerogatives as heir apparent in August, 1919, on the occasion of his private marriage at Odessa to Mile. Zizi Lambrino, daughter of Major Lambrino of the Roumanian army. That offer was never accepted. Neither the Roumanian Government nor the Parliament has taken any cognizance thereof. Neither have they taken any official cognizance of his marriage. While he is in New York the Crown Prince will be entertained at a dinner by James W. Gerard, who made his acquaintance in 1913 while Ambassador at Berlin.
This photograph was taken while the Crown Prince was touring in the west.

MINNESOTA LEADS ALL OTHER STATES IN BUTTER PRODUCTION

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 24—Minnesota leads all other states in butter production by a wide margin, according to statistics received by Chris Heen, state dairy and food commissioner. Minnesota during 1919 produced 142,844, 777 pounds of butter, while Iowa, her nearest competitor, produced only 87,914,633 pounds.

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

(United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 24—The republican state central committee here today named five new members, including two negroes. Only four of the committee attended the meeting. No action was taken on appointing a congressional committee.

Another meeting of the full committee will be held September 8, the day Senator Harding, republican presidential nominee, is scheduled to speak at the Minnesota state fair. The committee is expected to take part in a big reception for the republican candidate.

BOMBS FOR YANK CONGRESSIONAL PARTY

(United Press)

Tokio, August 24—The Korean government announced today the arrest at Seoul of many Koreans alleged conspirators, who confessed they had planned to murder American congressmen with bombs upon their arrival here.

Searchers for evidence discovered bombs, revolvers and literature which is said to bear out the alleged confessions.

WHEN YOU LAY YOUR PAPER ASIDE

After you've read the news, have you gotten all the valuable information out of it? Not until you have read the advertisements.

Reading the advertisements should be just as much a part of your day as reading the news columns.

The advertisements in your favorite newspaper are a daily record of what your local merchants have laid in store to meet your needs and add to your comfort.

They tell you what the manufacturers of these goods, who are constantly striving to please the great American public, have done to add to your advantages and comforts. The news, while always interesting, may often concern you only in a general way.

The advertisements are almost certain to tell you something that may mean a great deal to your home life or your business and social welfare.

"Try It Out Yourself" says the Good Judge

And you will find how much more satisfaction a little of this Real Tobacco gives you than you ever got from a big chew of the ordinary kind.

The good, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often. So it costs you less.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.
